

Case 10: ♣ A Certain Policewoman's Crime, Part 3

Manawi-san,
why are you
just standing there staring?

I...I'm
sorry...

Wait a second!!

...Don't
worry.
She thinks she hit the man.

You
caused an accident!

I just need to keep the pressure on her...

Sic her,
Watson!!

I was riding right next to her. I saw it!

I saw her run into a man, with my own two eyes!!

We still don't know that Manawi
was the one who caused the accident!

You're still going on about that....

If you freak
her out
too much,
she won't be able to answer any questions!!

Wh...
what?!

And I'm saying that I don't trust your testimony!

Kamoshida-
sempai.

To put it
bluntly.

!!

I think

you hit him.

...N

I did not see when the car hit the man!!

The second I looked away from the road, you shouted at me to hit the brakes, so I stopped the car!

I didn't see it!!

You told me to check the rearview mirrors!

You had only just gotten your license.

...Why were you driving in the first place?

That was pretty reckless instruction for such a narrow street, sempai

She told you to speed up to practice for emergencies?

There weren't many people around, so I thought it would be safe. There's nothing strange about that!

Then she came back...

I...was giving out parking tickets, like Kamoshida-sempai told me to.

We have to make proper use of you eventually!

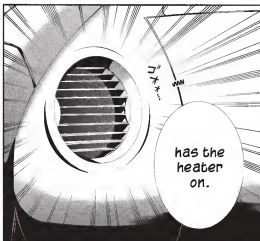

...she said.

You'll have to drive fast in an emergency.

Step on the gas.

And...

took
you off
ticket
duty,

and made
you drive down this street.

I suspect
Kawoshida-
sensei came through this street earlier.

That's
when she hit the elderly
man.

she went around the block...

Then, to pin the crime on
you,

...That was her chance.

Next...when you got to where the victim was hidden...

she made you slam on the brakes.

and at that moment,

she distracted you by telling you to check the mirrors...

she put her hand out of the open
window,

and hit the car as hard
as she could,
right in time
with the brakes,

creating the illusion that you had hit something.

It was so sudden, you closed your eyes...

...

so the sound was enough to make you think there had been an accident.

B
M

Of course she did.

Y...yes. She told me to stay inside...

After that, Kamoshida-sempai jumped out of the car. ...Am I right?

Putting on an act, as if the accident had only just occurred.

Sempai ran over to the hiding place.

If you had jumped out of the car, too, her performance would have been impossible.

and rushed to drag the old man out of the shadows...

Proof...?

What proof do you have that I...

Stop making up stories!!

R...no, it's not what you think!!

Thanks,
Miki!

I finally got them to answer my questions
when I said I was a journalist in training.

The call was made...

That
isn't all.

Hello? It's me... Now are things on your end?

But if Nanami
really was the one who caused the accident...

You couldn't possibly have called the ambulance at that time.

!!

You called at 12:32.

I had a journalist friend of mine.

And out when a 119 call was placed in your name.

Because during that time, Nanami

if there hadn't been an accident
yet?

Why would you call 119

...
...!!

called an ambulance.

you hid the victim in the bushes,
and then

...After you
caused the accident,

to go back
around the block, put Korawu in the driver's seat,

and bring her back to the scene.

After you
called the
ambulance,
you realized
you had time

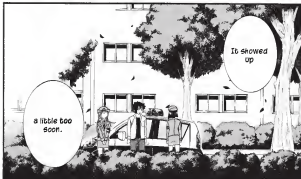

But....

And in fact, the ambulance
showed up
five minutes later.

Considering
the distance between here
and the fire station,

you figured you had about ten minutes before they arrived.

It showed up

a little too soon.

As right,
that's enough.

Something... just came over me.

Forgive
me.

Let's go,
Wajima-kun.
...It's turn myself in.

Kawoshida-
sensei! You don't have to tell them
everything.
Just that there was an accident...

I admit
it.

I'm sorry, Nanami-
san.

Kawoshida-
sensei...

Those are the actions of a criminal.

Nanami-san,
I caused
an accident
and tried to cover it up.

I tried to praise you.

I must accept my punishment.

Learn from my bad example.

Keep up the good work.

You'll make a fine policewoman.

Takeru-
kun.

GRACE...

Once you've gotten this cleaned up,
can we talk?

Alone?
